President's Notes

At the November meeting we were treated to the Keep-sake Quilting Trunk Show thanks to Betty Brister. Am always amazed at the creativity of quilters. The ability of different quilters to look at the same fabric and create totally different quilts.

Earlier this year the Guild donated to the National Quilt Museum in Paducah. We received 8 Guest Passes that must be used before September 2011. Any one headed to Paducah before September let me know.

The Guild can't function without the outstanding work done by all the committee chairs. Thanks to Nancy Beasley and Barbara Wofford - Advertising, Lori Branson - Auction, Bernie Farris - Bee Keeper, Sharon Ross - Bright Hopes, Donnis Todd - Community Ed., Mary Ruth Flores - Fall at the Alamo, Kay Allison - ITC, Jeannette Jay - Library, Ellen Hernandez - Magazine Sales, Gloria Hammond - Membership, and Sylvia Jolet - Memorial Quilt. Again a huge thanks.

Happy Holidays and looking forward to 2011.

Janet Miller

President, GSAQG

December meeting is at 11:00 am

A Calico Rose was awarded to Lori Branson for her chairmanship of the Auction. And another Rose was awarded to Barbara Wofford for her service as Advertising chair, Howey Scholarship Chair, and Hostess to our out of town guests.

GSAQG fun facts

by Kitty Janiga

Remember a few months ago, I asked members to fill out a questionnaire on personal quilting opinions – ah ha!!!! Some of you do. I managed to have 80 forms returned. That's about 75% of the members present at any meeting. The data collected was

Last month I started presenting data that 80 members had filled out on a questionnaire early last year. This is more of the data which was used during Summer retreat to play a game based on the TV show, Family Feud.

Last month's focus was what you liked. This month it is about some personal information and next month will be on your activities

Queen size was the size most frequently named as the size made most with 19, followed closely with lap at 16 and wall at 15. Twin was named 7 times, crib (baby) named 6 times, and double named 3 times. Others named once were full, king and miniature. Family was the overwhelming recipient of your quilts with 40. 15 named friends and charity was given 5 times. Grandchildren and children were listed 6 and 7 times, but they could really be considered family

But what about those unfinished projects. Unbelievable to this writer, 4 said none and one said one. 16 admitted to 1 – 5, 10 admitted to 5 -10 as did another 10 admitted to 10-20 while 36 joined yours truly with "too many to count" Some people apparently didn't know.

We did like our sewing machines. One person has 10 and only 8 people stay with 1. Most popular was 2 with 17 machines, 16 people have 3, 14 have 4 and 10 have 5. Other numbers 6 machines – 7, 7 machines --- 2. and 8 machines –2,

Bright Hopes News

Everyone is looking forward to our annual December feast... seems quilters and great recipes go together!

Bright Hopes will have a drop off station for quilts and totes as near to our regular area as possible and I'll be thankful for everything that magically appears. Be sure to sign the roster and indicate what items you brought so 'Anonymous' won't get credit for your work.

We're going to have a kit party in February to put together quilt and tote projects. We have stand up tasks and sit down tasks so please join us.

Thank you all for a great 2010 and have a holiday season filled with good will, good memories, and good friends. Sharon

Button, Button Who's Got The Button

I brought a handmade green/blue beaded button to the Guild meeting for Bring and Bragg but the button did not come home with me. Any one who attended the November meeting please look thru their things and see if the button got picked up by mistake. Thanks Janet Machines tend to be new new or old old. When asked the age of your newest machine, less than 6 months was given by 9 while 13 had one that was a year old. On the other side over 10 years was given by 7 and a few at 25 years. Scattered between were 2 years – 7, 3 years – 6, 4 years – 4, 5 years – 9, 6 years – 3, 7 years – 1. And 10 years – 4.

More information on activities next month.

Pieces of the Past: The Rajah Quilt

Ellen Hernandez

Women in England in the 1800s could receive 7 year sentences for minor crimes, including debt or petty theft. With a rising prison population, 12,500 women were deported to Van Diemen's Land (now Tasmania.) They were assigned domestic labor and expected to reform through a system of rewards. About 42% of the women were Irish.

Elizabeth Fry, a mother of 11, a Quaker, and a social reformer established The British Ladies Society for Promoting the Reformation of Female Prisoners in 1816. Fry was the major force behind legislation to make the treatment of prisoners more humane. She wrote "patchwork...is an exceptional mode of employing confined women, and is useful as a means for teaching them the art of sewing." Due to her efforts, a woman being deported received personal items such as a comb and Bible, and sewing items of pins, needles, thread, thimble, scissors, and 2 pounds of patchwork pieces. (Since 2001, Fry has been depicted on the Bank of England £5 note.)

The ship Rajah set sail from Woolwich on 5 April 1841 reaching Hobart, Tasmania on 19 July. It landed with 179 women prisoners. Upon arrival, their completed quilt was presented to the Lt-Governor's wife, Lady Jane Franklin, as evidence of cooperative work made under grim circumstances. Made in the medallion style common in the late 18th century, especially in Ireland, the quilt consists of 2815 pieces with a central panel of broderie perse, pieced borders and appliquéd flowers. The inscription is finely-worked in silk yarn, believed to have been done by Miss Kezia Hayter, a freewoman on board. At the end of the voyage, she married the ship's captain!

The quilt was returned to England to be presented to Elizabeth Fry. It was lost for 147 years until found in 1988 in an attic in Scotland. Purchased by the National Gallery of Australia, it is only displayed for viewing once a year due to its fragile state. Upon inspection about 20 pieces were thought to have faded, but they were actually sewn wrong side out. This may have been due to poor light, failing eyesight, or inexperience. There are many pinprick bloodstains, not surprising for work done on a sea voyage.

What became of the Rajah's prisoners? The scarcity of women on the island allowed assimilation as servants and wives. Descendants are either boastfully proud of the hardships their ancestors overcame, or are reluctant to claim kinship with former 'criminals.' Their Rajah Quilt remains one of Australia's textural treasures.

Gloria will not be taking membership money or information in December. Everybody gets to party!

Your renewal will be for the complete year of 2011. The dues are $20 for those 64 years or younger. It costs $15 dollars if you are willing to admit you are 65 or older.

Think about mailing your dues in. Go to membership on the Guild web site. Scroll down the page to the application. All the information is there including the address for mailing. Below are the 2010 members who still need to renew.

February 2011 Block Party

Block party is 6"x6" finished. Look on our web site for a link to a color picture of the block and how it can look in a quilt. This is for the guild member who asked for a nine patch. Be sure to square up your blocks as you go.

Light area is dark and light pink. Dark area is dark and light red.

Bring as many as you like with your name attached to each one to the February Guild meeting. All names go in the basket and the lucky winner in the drawing gets all of the blocks.
