President's Letter

The "Rush" is on.....for our "Star Gazing" QUILT SHOW. The next few months will fly by to Sept. 25-26. We need every member to be an active participant for this big event.

De LeClair's program gave us insight on judges' thinking for the quilts we submit, hoping to help each of us create better quilts, perhaps prize winning entries. Thanks, De.

The raffle quilt was out at a shop that day, for ShopHop sales; you, too, can share this opportunity for friends.....by selling some tickets for our lovely quilt. Your own quilt entries are now being accepted.....early is better; the quilt doesn't have to be finished yet, just get the paperwork going. There are lots of ways, large and small, that you can help with the show.

A Calico Rose was presented to Janice Frankenberger for her good work with the recent Mini-Retreat. Great fun was had by those members attending.

For the April meeting we had 112 members and several guests, five of them joined. Welcome June Abeel, Peggy Alspaugh, Mechelle Brown, Lisa Edwards, Martha Jordan.

Our guild meetings are designed for sharing, inspiration, and friendship. I hope you are enjoying them as much as I do.

Sincerely, Ida

Quilt Project Committee News

(commonly called QPC)

(This committee provides members an opportunity to try new techniques or just practice what they know.)

The QPC tables were full of projects for you to try. New this month are: In a Heartbeat (machine applique/cut away); The Big Apple (a very, very large apple core in flannels makes it easy to machine stitch the curve), Fan (hand applique a partially made fan), and Renaissance Romance (double wedding ring -- Yes, it is more curves!)

For the Guild Work Day next month, QPC has a few pieces to be finished. First, the Funky Chickens -- only 2 blocks need borders, then it's ready to set together and add a border. Second, there are at least 2 tops that are ready for borders, and third, we have some projects that only need one more block (such as Orange No Name, Floating Squares)

This my "good bye." Closing on my house is set for April 30th, then I'll be driving north to Nebraska to be near my family. It has been a wonderful experience -- playing with your fabric and donated projects and trying different techniques. QPC is in good hands -- Gail Dickman, Nancy Beasley, Ida Blankenship, Roberta Haby, Geneva Gusman, Joyce Howison, and Donna Ingram have been preparing kits for several months now. Plus three members volunteered to join the committee. I hope you give them the same support and encouragement you've given me over the years. Maybe you could even work on preparing a project. Remember, for most of us this is a hobby (OK, obsession), enjoy it and have fun! I'll enjoy watching the web site to see what you are doing.

Carol

Golden Carrot Winner: Helen Bartlett

Each time you turn in a project to Bright Hopes, Storybook Quilts, Auction, Quilt Projects Committee or complete any other service to the guild, you are given chances to win this prize. (Note: be sure to sign your name on the white side of each ticket you receive! I'd hate to draw a blank ticket or one that I can't read the name. If they are stapled together, remove the staple and sign each one.)

Pieces of the Past: Ann West's Coverlet ...by Ellen Hernandez

When Ann West made this wool coverlet in 1820, little did she know it would create a British national incident. She lived in Chippenham, Wiltshire, West England and owned a millinery and dressmaking shop. Her medallion style coverlet centers around Adam in the Garden of Eden, surrounded by 64 panels of everyday characters. She included explanatory embroidered captions (some directly on the panels, some on yellow fabric) perhaps as a teaching tool. Wool pieces such as Ann's were made during this time by male tailors to advertise their skill for coats and uniforms.

Besides Bible characters, the panels include distressed widows, an unemployed poor sailor, and a double wedding ceremony. The Woman of Samaria, from a Bible story, is dressed in clothing similar to what a 19th century British woman would have worn. Ann signed the coverlet, "Remember Me and Forget me Not, Ann West's work, 1820."

The coverlet went up for sale in 2006. The owner had discovered it in a trunk in someone's garage. He needed the money to fund his trip to the World Cup.

The British Culture Minister, David Lammy, responded to the sale by placing a temporary export bar on Ann's coverlet with this edict: "this pictorial coverlet bears both a signature and date of 1820, making it the earliest example of an appliqué figurative coverlet in wool, made by a lady, known to survive in Britain. We are not aware of any example of this style in a British collection, nor has such a piece been recorded in any of the standard texts outlining the history of patchwork and quilting in the United Kingdom. The Ann West coverlet is a unique English textile treasure and every effort should be made to acquire this coverlet for a collection in Britain. Anything less would be a tragedy."

The coverlet sold for $55,000 and was purchased by Friends of the Victoria and Albert Museum. The historical piece remains in England at the V&A.

GREATER SAN ANTONIO QUILT GUILD, INC.

MISSION

The Greater San Antonio Quilt Guild (GSAQG) has established a grant program in honor of a loved and esteemed founding member, Ethel Y. ## Library News by Jeanette Jay,

Sunday night, day after the meeting, in my yet-to-be-finished studio. But, today, I cleaned off a large wooden dining room table that Granny Pat had given me (we had been using it for storage). It has a cutting mat that almost fits the entire surface. But, not ready to get to cutting yet. I set up my computer, printer, and iTunes! Almost there!

Friday I had an opportunity to visit with member, Beverly Wolfe. She is downsizing her house to ready for a move and had called Mary Ruth and I last year to pick up books and fabric. She is still cleaning and called me again to pick up more fabric! She didn't have any books for me yet and I turned over the fabric to Carol to sort out.

Several members donated books at the April meeting and I have inventoried them into the database (enjoying my new set up!). Here is a brief list. Get on line at our Collectorz database to see more details: <http://cloud.collectorz.com/saquilt/books/view>

Guild Member on winning team!!!

Guild member Amanda Frankel was recently on the winning "Iron Quilter" team at the Chicago International Quilt Festival.

Amanda was on the team of teacher and lecturer Debbie Caffrey, The team was made up of 4 members plus Debbie and their task was to take donated fabric, design, cut and sew a finished quilt top in 2 112 hours.

A large audience had a lot of fun cheering on their favorite team. There were many door prizes during the contest. A Bernina sewing machine was the grand prize.

The other "Chefs" were Gyleen X. Fitzgerald (she was a speaker at our guild several months ago) and Anita Grossman Solomon.

The quilt tops will be quilted and bound and put up for silent auction at the Houston International Quilt Festival later this year. The proceeds from the auction will benefit the Quilt Museum in Texas.
